It's full steam ahead for this year's pantomime which will run from 6th to 9th December 2017.

Tickets will be on general sale from 30th October. Posters will be on display around the village—please email langtoftplayers@gmail.com if you can take a poster for display.

Its not too late to sign up to be in the chorus, so just come along to any Tuesday or Thursday rehearsal.

If you are able to offer help behind the scenes, or on performance nights please let us know—many hands make light work.

Or just come along and cheer, hiss and boo as you see fit!

A Century of Sound

The screening of the show took place on 30th September and those that attended enjoyed the evening.

We hope to be able to make it available for anyone that would like to see it but could not attend on the night.

Murder Mystery

Thank you to everyone who agreed to take part in the Murder Mystery at Braceborough.

Unfortunately the evening was cancelled by the organisers due to low ticket sales, but they are hoping to reschedule in the New Year.

Costume Shed - Help!

We are still looking for some costume storage space.

Please keep it in mind and if anyone has any ideas please let us know via the general email address below.

Christmas Night Out

Val offered to organise the Christmas Night Out this year and some possible dates were recently sent out.

There was no clear favourite from the replies received so; having had a word with the current cast, it has been decided to postpone the night out until after Christmas when everyone isn't so busy.

A date will be sent out shortly, a "Night at the Dogs" at Fengate has been suggested but any other ideas please see Val or use the general email address.

Website

The Langtoft Players website contains lots of information for the things you need to know!

Current production rehearsal schedule, links to the box office, committee meeting and AGM notes; and you guessed it - newsletters!

So if you have deleted your emails you can still check.

Constructive feedback always welcome, bearing in mind I'm still learning.

To make contact please email langtoftplayers@gmail.com and your message will be passed on to the relevant person.
